

Abstract

The invention relates to a medicament containing at least one active ingredient which lowers the 5 cholesterol in the blood, characterized in that it has means for providing release characteristics for the active ingredient with which the active ingredient is released with at least two different release rates, specifically with a first release rate in a first 10 period and with a second release rate, which is higher than the first release rate, in a subsequent second period, where the second period starts 2 to 12 hours after administration of the medicament.